Cyber Forensics

For the past two decades, the Electronic-Era has been in the air. Everyone involving consumers, Businesses, and governments have moved into cyberspace and cloud environment. Nowadays, people spend a significant part of their daily lives in cyberspace, creating and enjoying new social relationships on various websites and social media apps. Cyberspace is a vast term, and it involves all the crimes which happen on computers and the Internet. However, criminals have found various ways to carry out online frauds. Therefore, the risks and threats have increased. For sure, this leads to a negative impact on the general public. Hence it becomes imperative for everyone to be aware of all the ongoing digital crimes or threats. This will eventually aid in achieving more safe and secure cyberspace around the globe.
